Assistant Professor Level B

Position Description

The duties and responsibilities of this position may include each of the itemised activities with specific expectations negotiated from time to time with the Dean.

INTRODUCTION
An Assistant Professor Level B is expected to independently contribute to teaching, research and service in the Faculty and University at the undergraduate, honours and postgraduate level. He or she is also expected to maintain and develop activities relevant to their profession or discipline or in a related area. Appointment or promotion to the rank of Assistant Professor Level B requires a proven potential to undertake successfully an academic career in a private university. The following criteria apply:

Duties and Responsibilities
Duties and responsibilities of an Assistant Professor B include, but are not limited to:

TEACHING AND LEARNING
- Making an effective and independent contribution to teaching and learning in their discipline, modelling teamwork and flexibility to ensure the pedagogical and commercial success of the Faculty and University
- Continuously improving teaching performance, methods and materials using, among other things, development of a comprehensive teaching portfolio, teaching evaluations, peer review, development workshops and other training opportunities
- Preparing high quality subject delivery and learning support materials using any web based platforms, electronic library information systems and other teaching and learning systems developed for use in the University
- Ensuring that the graduate attributes of the University are embedded in subjects or discipline areas for which they are responsible and that there is explicit relationship of learning and teaching to University objectives
- Complying with all policies and procedures relating to teaching and learning, making every effort to contribute to the continuous improvement and effectiveness of administration of teaching and learning
- Acting as a subject coordinator including: supervising tutors; carrying out related planning and coordination responsibilities; organising the preparation and marking of assignments and all examinations; invigilating examinations; and submitting grades
- Conducting lectures, tutorials, workshops, practical classes, demonstrations, field excursions, clinical sessions and other appropriate learning activities as required
Ensuring that students are adequately informed of the requirements and conduct of learning activities

Encouraging regular and effective consultation with students

Providing flexible, consistent and timely approaches to assessment and feedback that foster independent learning, incorporate relevant developments, and reflect best practice

Obtaining feedback from students, peers and employers on individual teaching, the subjects for which they are responsible, and the implementation and pedagogy

Providing respect and support for the development of students as individuals and thereby contributing to creating the unique Bond experience for students in their learning

Providing approaches to learning that influence, motivate and inspire students to learn

Making an independent contribution through professional practice and expertise

RESEARCH AND SCHOLARSHIP

Being actively involved in research and scholarship, and as a result, developing a record of publication in research and scholarly journals and other forms of publication

Participating in research projects and research teams (where appropriate)

Developing a record of participation in applications for research funding, whether individually or as part of a team

Supervising the program of study for honours students and postgraduate students undertaking research projects

Participating in development opportunities to improve research and supervision skills

SERVICE, ADMINISTRATION AND PROFESSIONAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Within the Faculty and/or University, making a contribution to and taking a role in one or more of:
  o A significant aspect of promotion, marketing, and recruitment activities
  o Extra-curricular educational activities that impact on employers and/or the wider community
  o A significant aspect of alumni and/or development activities
  o Management and administration of a major aspect of the Faculty’s teaching, research or student service activities
  o A significant Centre
  o Management and administration of a significant area (eg, teaching and learning, student support, postgraduate programs, quality assurance, award program) across the Faculty and/or University

Making a contribution to the profession and/or discipline including:
  o contributing to relevant professional societies and to the community and o developing and participating in short courses, seminars and conferences programs as appropriate

Engaging in professional activities appropriate to the profession

Adhering to University and Faculty Policies

Contributing to department and/or faculty meetings, and serving on committees as required

Contributing to the financial viability and success of the Faculty and University
OTHER DUTIES AS DIRECTED
The staff member may seek and/or the Dean may allocate additional duties within a staff member’s skill, competence and training.

TEACHING LOAD
The teaching load for this position is the load established in accordance with Faculty Policies, except as otherwise agreed with the Dean. The workload may be increased if research and scholarship output is not considered to be of an appropriate standard for an Assistant Professor Level B.

RELEVANT EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS
Normally a doctoral qualification expected in the discipline. Exceptions to degree requirements may be made for individuals who possess a higher degree qualification and substantial professional competence, industry or clinical skills and experience.

UNDERSTANDING OF QUALITY ASSURANCE
Staff should demonstrate an understanding of the principles of quality assurance and continuous improvement as they apply at Bond University.

Staff are expected to demonstrate an ongoing commitment to the Bond University Strategic Plan, university policy and to our quality assurance processes

UNDERSTANDING OF CULTURAL SENSITIVITY
Staff will come into contact with staff and students from a variety of cultural backgrounds. It is expected that mutual respect, cultural awareness and cultural sensitivity will form the basis of for a professional working relationship.

Staff are encouraged to attend a cultural sensitivity workshop to further enhance and develop cultural awareness and cultural sensitivity skills.

Position held by : ________________________________________________

Signed : __________________________________

Date : __________________________________