Indigenous Scholarships

Makayla Palm
Bachelor of Psychological Science
2016 Bond University Indigenous Scholarship Recipient

"The Bond University Indigenous Scholarship has given me the opportunity to acquire a quality tertiary education. It's provided me with both great financial and personal support, particularly through the Nyombil Centre. I have constantly been encouraged to persevere and follow my dreams for the betterment of our people."

Indigenous Scholarships

Bond University is dedicated to supporting outstanding Indigenous students with full-fee and part-fee scholarships to help them achieve their ambitions.

Bond University's Indigenous Scholarships are designed to reward students' achievements in academics, leadership activities and community involvement.

YOUR NETWORK OF SUPPORT

In 2012 Bond University opened the Nyombil Indigenous Support Centre to provide academic and cultural support for Bond's Indigenous community. The centre offers the services of an Indigenous Cultural Support Officer.

Academically, the centre assists the transition into the higher education environment, understanding university policy and supporting progression. Culturally, the centre promotes engagement by helping students and Bond University to connect with the local Indigenous community.

By creating an environment where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students are able to connect and grow both academically and personally, our vision is to see your ambition come to life.

For more information about the Nyombil Centre or Indigenous support on campus please call 07 5595 5617.

APPLY NOW

Receiving a scholarship at Bond University not only helps fund your studies, it opens the door to a network of support on campus and provides you with opportunities to get involved in the Bond community, develop industry contacts and gain access to work.

The scholarships are valued at up to 100% of tuition fees* for any single undergraduate degree or diploma program.

Scholarship applications are open online from 1 April to 31 July.

To find out more about Bond University's Scholarship Program and to apply online, visit bond.edu.au/scholarships or email scholarships@bond.edu.au.

*Indigenous scholarships are valued at 50% of tuition fees for a single undergraduate degree (excluding the Bond Medical Program) or 100% tuition for any diploma program.
