

ASPIRATIONS & INSPIRATIONS

Law Research Newsletter
March 2017

In this issue:

- Conferences/Seminars
- Academic Publications
- Impact and Engagement
- What's Happening?
- Academic Spotlight:
Assistant Professor Annette Greenhow
- Funding Opportunities
- Reminders
- HDR News
- Centre for Commercial Law
- TICLP Network
- CPLE
- Faculty Law Journals
- For Your Information
- Upcoming Events
- Recent Pics

Conferences/Seminars

Professor Vai Io Lo was invited by the China International Business & Economic Law (CIBEL) Initiative of UNSW to speak on 'Direct Selling in China' on the 9 March (see picture below).

At the recent Commonwealth Legal Education Association Conference in Melbourne, entitled 'Educating the Commonwealth Lawyers of the Future', Associate Professor Bobette Wolski presented on 'The Limitations of codes of Professional Conduct Accommodating Diversity in Practice at Law School'. Assistant Professor Kate Gallo-way's co-authored paper on 'Smart Casual: Using online modules to build teacher confidence and skills' was also presented.

Assistant Professor Hugh Zillmann presented a paper at the annual QLS (Queensland Law Society) conference entitled 'A Practitioner's Survival Guide when lost in a Sea of Revenue Law and Regulation: Getting to Know the Unknown Unknowns.'

Earlier this year, Hugh also co-presented at the annual ATTA (Australasian Tax Teachers Association) conference in New Zealand on a related topic: 'Adrift in a Sea of Revenue Law without a proper Paddle – Failings in the teaching of Revenue Law-related subjects in Australia and New Zealand' with Christine Newport from Bond Faculty of Business. This will lead to a co-authored paper.

Hugh is also the co-author of a paper arising from a presentation with Jack Burke from City University, Hong Kong at APLEC (Australasian Professional Legal Education Council) late last year on 'Fuzzy thinking and uncertain outcomes. The state of play concerning practical legal training in England and Wales and Hong Kong'.

Three of our academics presented at the recently held Anti-Doping Conference at Bond:

Professor Jim Corkery, 'Bond's moot on integrity in sport: doping athletes front up to the global court of Arbitration for Sport'

Assistant Professor Narelle Bedford, 'Doping in Sport and Law: my chapter!'

Assistant Professor Annette Greenhow, 'Regulatory Tools and Instruments in Anti-Doping: Examining the regulators toolkit'.

Associate Professor Danielle Ireland-Piper presented a research seminar entitled 'Extraterritorial Jurisdiction and the Cosmopolitan: A Double-Edged Sword' at Utrecht University in the Netherlands.

On 30 March, Professor Dan Svantesson presented at a panel at the RightsCon 2017 conference in Brussels. The panel was organised by the Berkman Klein Center at Harvard University on the topic of "Jurisdictional scope of content restrictions: should content restrictions be limited to geographical borders?". Apart from Dan, the panel included academics from Harvard University, Stanford Law School, the National Law University (Delhi) and the UN Special Rapporteur on the promotion and protection of the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

Academic Publications

Congratulations on the following recent publications:

- Francina Cantatore, 'The Migration of the Book across Territorial Borders: Copyright Implications for Authors in the Digital Economy' in Ionica Oncioiu (ed), Driving Innovation and Business Success in the Digital Economy (2017, IGI Global) 83-98.
- Jonathan Crowe and Rachael Field, 'The Course to Publication Never Did Run Smooth' on The Australian Dispute Resolution Research Network (22 March 2017) <<https://adresearch.net/2017/03/22/the-course-to-publication-never-did-run-smooth/>>
- Jodie O'Leary, 'Protecting Children from Harm in Juvenile Detention' (2016) 41 (4) Alternative Law Journal 239.
- Umair Ghori, ' "Reverse Permissibility" in Renewable Energy Sector: Going Beyond the US – India Solar Cells Dispute" (2016) Asian Journal of International Law, DOI: 10.1017/S204425131600028X
- William van Caenegem, Jen Cleary and Lucie Treguier, 'The Protection of Origin Marks in China and Japan' (2017) Australian Intellectual Property Journal 131.
- William van Caenegem and Violet Atkinson, 'The Controversy under Australian Law' (2017) 13(1) Le Libellio d' 50.
- Katherine Cumow, Tina Hunter, Michael Weir and Laurence Boulle, 'Negotiation and regulation of land access agreements: lessons from Queensland' (2017) 10 Journal of World Energy Law and Business 117.

Impact and Engagement

The Bond Law Faculty was delighted to welcome Judge Eugene Hyman (retired Judge of the Superior Court of California for the County of Santa Clara) as a visiting scholar from 3-4 April. The Judge, who has more than 20 years of judicial experience and is internationally recognised as an expert in therapeutic jurisprudence and domestic violence, gave a Twilight Seminar on domestic violence, risk assessment and the sharing of information across service providers. There was a record number of attendees at the Seminar, made up of a who's who of the Gold Coast DV sector, including their Honours Magistrate Strofield and Tynan and Registrar Bould from the Southport Specialist Domestic Violence Court. Bond staff and students were also well-represented. During the Judge's visit to Bond, his Honour particularly enjoyed a personalised tour of the Corrigan Collection of Indigenous Art. His Honour is presenting at the Non-Adversarial Justice conference on Thursday 6th April with Bond Law Faculty Professor, Rachael Field on the topic: 'Non-Adversarial Approaches to Domestic Violence: Interrogating How Theory and Practice Can Be Better Integrated'.

A list of handouts for this seminar can be found on the Law Research SharePoint sub-site.

Judge Hyman with host academic Professor Rachael Field

Assistant Professor Jodie O'Leary wrote a submission to the Victorian Parliamentary Inquiry into Youth Justice Centres—click here for the submission.

Book Publications 2017

(copies are held in the Law Library)

Congratulations to Danielle and William on their recent book publications.

Danielle Ireland-Piper, Accountability in Extraterritoriality: An International and Comparative Law Perspective (Edward Elgar, 2017).

A book launch event will take place later in the year.

See: <http://www.e-elgar.com/shop/accountability-in-extraterritoriality>

William van Caenegem and Jen Cleary (eds), The Importance of Place: Geographical Indications as a Tool for Local and Regional Development, Ius Gentium: Comparative Perspectives on Law and Justice 58 (Springer, 2017) 81 –107.

See: <http://www.springer.com/in/book/9783319530727>

What's Happening?

In March/April 2017, Associate Professor Danielle Ireland-Piper was a visiting scholar in the Faculty of Law, Economics and Governance at Utrecht University in the Netherlands.

Academic Spotlight

This month we bring the spotlight to Assistant Professor Annette Greenhow.

Research areas of interest

My research areas of interest are in the areas of sports law and sports regulation and governance. I have a specific interest in the area of sport-related concussion.

Current research projects

Currently I am working on a research project that applies regulatory theory to the issue of sport-related concussion. Threshold areas include an examination of the regulatory space of sport-related concussion, identifying the regulatory actors with the ability to alter or influence the behaviour of others and how responses have been designed, implemented, enforced and reviewed in the areas of concussion management, concussion prevention, concussion research and concussion education.

I'm also an Associate Investigator in a NHMRC grant application examining Concussion and Genetics lodged in the 2017 round.

Recent publications

I have completed a chapter for publication in the Handbook of Global Sports Law (Routledge) due for publication later in 2017.

What is your dream project/area of research to work on?

To be part of an interdisciplinary research group addressing the harm associated with sport-related concussion and offering practical solutions to ensure a safe sporting system for all participants.

Best research advice you can share or were given?

To embrace the 'rejections' and to learn from every experience - positive or negative. As I reflect on the work that I've done over the years, I can see that the rejections were an essential element necessary to redefine the roadmap and to set me on the path towards achieving my research goals and objectives.

Favourite way to relax

I love to spend time relaxing with my family at the beach or under a tree on beautiful Burleigh Headland..

A random fact you'd like to share

I own two surfboards and a Segway (my husband is the Qld/NSW/NT distributor).

Moments of epiphany and why?

To use a sporting pun, I was 'served a curve ball' on 13 February 2015 when I was confronted with a health challenge that was to change my life forever. I realised then that I could no longer enjoy the 'illusion of immortality' and just had to 'go for it' and get done what I felt I was driven to do.

Who inspires you?

Personally - my two beautiful daughters Mia and Ana. Professionally - Emeritus Professor Mary Hiscock for leading the way in 1972 and inspiring the sisters-in-law!

Funding Opportunities

ANZELA (Australia & NZ Education Law Association) is offering scholarships and awards and conference support to promote the knowledge, and practice of legal education. Click here for further information.

Government of the Netherlands, Human Rights tulip award. This award recognises individuals or organisations that promote human rights in innovative ways, with the aim to put valuable work in the public spotlight. The prize is worth €100,000, of which €25,000 is dedicated to training and €75,000 to improve and expand the work of the winner. Click here for further information and application form.

The Research Office offers a Visiting Research Fellows Scheme to enhance research collaboration through supporting visits from leading academics around the world. Funding is available on a case by case basis to support travel, dailing living and accommodation costs. The visit must be of 2-4 weeks' duration, is capped at $10,000 per visit and must meet a number of requirements. Click here for more details.

CIFAR ECR funding opportunity—click here.

Reminders

1. You can access the recording of the recent Grant Application Panel Seminar held in the faculty by clicking here.
2. To view the recent Michele Leering Twilight seminar, please click here.
3. To apply for internal research funds from the faculty, please access the most up to date forms on the Law Research sharepoint site, or grab a hard copy outside law research level 3, level 2 photocopy room or level 4 staff room. For information on sharepoint, see 'For Your Information'.
4. Please note, there is an expectation that Faculty funding to attend a conference will result in a submission of an article or book chapter within 12 months.

HDR News

We're pleased to welcome our new PhD student to the Faculty; Christopher Wilson.

Chris Wilson

Chris has undertaken undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in Law in the UK and achieved a Distinction in his Corporate Law and Finance LLM. His work experience includes producing internationally recognised oil and gas standards and time in Parliament working with committees. Chris is motivated by issues of corporate governance and holds particular fond interests for company law, finance and intellectual property law. His PhD focusses on the global financial crisis, the governance of banks and the European sovereign debt crisis. Chris is supervised by Emeritus Prof John Farrar and Dr Simone Kelly.

Chris is sitting on level 3 room 27 so feel free to pop in and say hi.

In brief:

- A huge congratulations to Lynden Griggs for successful completion of his PhD (by Published Work) for 'The Doctrinal Coherence of the Torrens System of Land Registration in Australia: Evolution or Revolution?'
- Madeline Taylor (PhD) is currently under examination.
- Michael Krakat (PhD) will be undergoing Confirmation on Friday 12 May, 10:30am in the Living Lab.

HDR Publications:

- Madeline Elizabeth Taylor and Susanne Taylor, 'The Aroma of Opportunity: The Potential of Wine Geographical Indications in the Australia-India Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement' in William van Caenegem and Jen Cleary (eds), The Importance of Place: Geographical Indications as a Tool for Local and Regional Development, Ius Gentium: Comparative Perspectives on Law and Justice 58 (Springer, 2017) 81 –107.
- Dani Larkin, 'Indigenous citizenship rights 50 years after the referendum' (March 2017) Eureka Street (online) 27 (5) <<https://www.eurekastreet.com.au/article.aspx?aeid=50877#.WOx5W2f7Wpq>>.

HDR Reminders:

Publish your research! The Australian Journal of Clinical Education (AJCE) is an open access, on-line journal jointly published by Law and HSM via epublications@bond. The AJCE is a double blind peer-reviewed journal devoted to issues of practice and innovation in clinical education across the two disciplines of Law and Health. HDR students (PhD/equiv and Masters by research/equiv) are encouraged to submit their research for publication to the AJCE. To be considered for peer review/publication, articles must adhere to the submission requirements as described on the 'submission process' page .

If you haven't already seen this youtube clip on 'Pursuing HDR Studies at Bond' it's highly recommended you do so. It's an informative discussion and includes current academics and HDR students in Bond Law.

All HDRs are encouraged to take advantage of creating an online PhD Bond profile. It's easy, just complete a profile form (email lawresearch for a copy or you'll find them under the ilearn HDR Community site under Handbook and forms.

This post on the Thesis Whisperer addresses the ongoing challenge of time management. It's a worthwhile but lighthearted read: 'How to stop "flipping" \(and write a good to-do list\)'

Don't forget the forthcoming Introduction to Learning and Teaching at Bond workshop (see Upcoming Events) which is open to HDR students.

Centre for Commercial Law

The Centre for Commercial Law co-hosted the Global Law Conference in Paris from 5-6 January 2017. It was another stellar event, with many interesting papers and robust discussions. 45 judges, academics and practitioners enjoyed the conference and the surroundings. Pictured are some of the contributors. The 2017 Global Law conference program is available at <https://cleparis.org/>.

Professor Gerard Carney making a presentation on the trial of the last Queen of France, Marie Antoinette during the CLE Paris 2017 Global Law Conference. It was presented in the same court room in which Marie Antoinette was tried, at the Palais de Justice.

Transnational, International and Comparative Law and Policy (TICLP) Network

Registrations are now open for the second interdisciplinary conference of the Transnational, International and Comparative Law and Policy Network. You can view the draft program and register via links on the TICLP website: www.bond.edu.au/ticlp. In particular, please consider attending the opening keynote by Professor Kim Rubenstein from the Australian National University in the morning of Friday 27 May and the evening plenary panel which features interdisciplinary perspectives on "The Law and Politics of Control and Power", including from our own Jon Crowe.

Centre for Professional Legal Education (CPLE)

The Centre for Professional Legal Education has some exciting news this month. We have been approached by Western Sydney University and asked if we would consider taking over the Centre for Legal Education. If you have not heard of the CLE, it was originally established in 1992 by the Law Foundation of New South Wales. In its early years the Centre was extremely active, and engaged in some important and impactful projects, including a number of studies into the career intentions of law students and the career destinations of law graduates (under Christopher Roper), the publication of an annual Legal Education Yearbook, the establishment of the New South Wales Legal Education Conference, and the creation of a small specialist library collection devoted to legal education. In the last few years the Centre has been relatively quiet, its activity largely limited to publication of the Legal Education Digest. The transfer of the Centre to Bond University would involve the virtual handover of the Centre's legacy and name, as well as the physical handover of the specialist library collection and Centre documentation. This is a marvellous opportunity to merge the energy, innovation and enthusiasm of our Centre with the 25 year heritage of Australia's oldest legal education research centre. The details of the arrangement are now being settled. Meanwhile, the activities of the Centre continue. Excellent scholarship continues to be produced and exciting and innovative training courses continue to be developed and offered. Our second year is shaping up to be even bigger and brighter than our first!

Faculty Published Journals

Volume 1, 2016 of the Australian Journal of Clinical Education (AJCE) has now been published in full. They also now have an ISSN—ISSN: 2207-4791.

The AJCE is now calling for submissions for Volume 2, 2017. Submissions can be made through the epublications website.

Most popular papers downloaded in March:

Australian Journal of Clinical Education

Francina Cantatore, Linda Crane and Deborah Wilmoth, 'Defining Clinical Education: Parallels in Practice' (38 downloads)

Louise Parsons, 'Competitive Mooting as Clinical legal Education: Can Real Benefits be Derived from an Unreal Experience?' (25 downloads)

Sarah Brooks, Nikki Milne, Rob Marc Orr, and Rebecca Terry, 'Is a students' ability to critically self-reflect, related to their performance on physiotherapy clinical placements?' (25 downloads)

Bond Law Review

Eric Colvin, 'Causation in Criminal Law' (837 downloads)

Nicholas James, 'Separate Legal Personality: Legal Reality and Metaphor' (491 downloads)

Michael Duffy, 'Shareholders Agreements and Shareholders' Remedies Contract Versus Statute?' (318 downloads)

Corporate Governance eJournal

Kim Kercher, 'Corporate Social Responsibility: Impact of globalisation and international business' (996 downloads)

Sabina Medarevic, 'Environmental Corporate Social Responsibility and the Carbon Economy: A Case for CSR, the Triple Bottom Line and Obliquity' (388 downloads)

Tim Jay and Madeline Taylor, 'A case of champagne: a study of geographical indications' (297 downloads)

Owen Dixon Society eJournal

Most popular papers were:

Katie Allan, 'From Parker v Parker to Pirate Kings: The legacy of Lord Denning—A Toast' (32 downloads)

Yulan Xiang, 'Achieving Better outcomes for Chinese law students studying overseas' (11 downloads)

Revenue Law Journal

Joel Manyam, 'Taxation of Gains from Banking and Insurance Businesses in New Zealand' (192 downloads)

Braedon Clark, 'The Meaning of Income: the Implications of Stone v FCT' (191 downloads)

Domenic Carbone, 'An Extraordinary Concept of Ordinary Income? The Significance of FCT v Montgomery on What is Income According to Ordinary Concepts' (169 downloads)

Sports Law eJournal

Natasha Schot, 'Negligent liability in sport' (351 downloads)

Jim Corkery, 'Dangerous Sports and Obvious Risks—Anyone for Cricket?' (319 downloads)

For Your Information:

SharePoint Subsite for Law Research is now up and running and available to all law academics. It sits on Office365 which you can access by going to the Bond website and typing in office. before Bond so it looks like this <https://office.bond.edu.au/>. Click on sharepoint and search under law research. Once you find the home page, click the * so you 'follow' this page. You'll find relevant forms and research policies under 'Documents' and hyperlinks to the Grant Application Seminar and Michele Leering Twilight Seminar.

There's a list of academic research areas in an excel spreadsheet. Feel free to edit your details as you see fit.

The University Research Highlights report is now available online here. You should have all received a hard copy of the Highlights including the Faculty of Law inserts. Please contact me if you didn't receive one.

All academics including HDR students are being encouraged to sign up to ORCID. ORCID is a unique researcher identification number that distinguishes you (including your name variations) from other researchers and ensures all your research activity is associated with you specifically. We can link it to our new research management software system PURE, so all your research activity will be automatically uploaded into one place. To register for a number is quick and easy and if you can spare a bit of time, you can upload your profile. Please send through your number to lawresearch once you register here.

Upcoming Events:

Research Services has organised for two Research Skills Workshops to be held in May, facilitated by the GrantEd Group.

These professional development workshops are free of charge to Bond researchers, but limited to 25 people in order to ensure personalised discussion. Please sign up as soon as possible to ensure a space if you would like to attend.

Workshop One: Writing, winning and managing category 2 and 3 funding (click here to book)

Tuesday 9 May, 9:30am-3:00pm

This workshop will assist researchers to understand the fundamentals involved in attracting and winning non-category 1 funding (e.g. from consultancies, tenders and contracts). Morning tea and lunch are included.

Workshop Two: Planning your research for impact (click here to book)

Wednesday 10 May, 9:30am-12:00pm

This workshop focuses on how to strategically set yourself up for grant success. Morning tea included..

Upcoming Events cont'd:

The Introduction to Learning and Teaching at Bond workshop aims to offer a practical, interactive and experiential approach to support teaching staff build capacity and capability in effective teaching pedagogy and practice. Through active participation in the workshop you will explore ways to adequately: plan and apply good teaching practices; structure valuable assessment and feedback; design your curriculum and teach to diverse learners; deal with challenging classroom situations; and design technologically enhanced learning grounded on pedagogical principles. This workshop is suitable for staff who are new to teaching or just new to teaching at Bond.

This workshop is set to take place in O Week on Friday, May 12 9am-4pm INTERESTED?? To register, please contact the Office of Learning and Teaching at olt@bond.edu.au or 51293 by COB Monday, April 24.

Please note, this is available for HDR students also.

The Faculty is hosting an event to mark the 50th anniversary of the 1967 referendum on Indigenous recognition. The event will be held between 5-8pm on Thursday 25 May in the Princeton Room. Further details to come.

Evidence-based Philanthropy Seminar on May 11 (see below).

---

EVIDENCE-BASED PHILANTHROPY

"ENABLING GIVING, BASED ON SOUND EVIDENCE"

Giving Evidence works to get charitable giving based on sound evidence. It was founded by Caroline Fiennes, an acclaimed author and former award-winning charity CEO with over 10 years' experience advising donors and charities. We work on improving the evidence 'system' across charities and philanthropy, and advising donors and foundations on an individual basis.

Date: 11 May 2017

Time: 5:45pm for a 6:30pm start
Drinks and nibbles in the Foyer from 5:45pm

Venue: Bond University, Faculty of Health Sciences and Medicine, Building 5, Level 3, Gregor Heiner Theatre

INFORMATION
For catering purposes, please register at <https://events.bond.edu.au/register.aspx?id={B443A7AA-2410-E71-80E3-0050569C0F40}>

Contact Info
mvemeul@bond.edu.au

---

Recent Pics:

Prof Rachael Field with the San Jose Sharks Ice Hockey Puck presented by Judge Hyman.

Michele Leering presenting her poster at the Poster workshop session in March.

PhD student Florentina Benga with her poster at the poster workshop.

A/Prof Narelle Bedford presenting at the Bond Anti-Doping Conference early April.

Recent Pics cont'd:

ADR Vai Io Lo introducing the Grant Application Panel Seminar.

Grant Application Panel Seminar

PhD student (UQ) Katrina Kluss presenting a Brown Bag Seminar and Prof Jon Crowe (Supervisor).