Studying abroad is an experience that will stay with you for the rest of your life. It’s an opportunity to expand your educational horizons, to step outside the boundaries of the accepted curriculum and enhance your qualifications with an international perspective. As Australia’s first independent, not-for-profit university, Bond University’s Study Abroad Program gives you the opportunity to study for one or two semesters at Australia’s leading independent university, located in the heart of Australia’s famous holiday destination, the Gold Coast.

You will have a choice of subjects available through the Bond Business School and the Faculties of Health Sciences & Medicine, Law and Society & Design.

When you’re not attending lectures and hitting the books, you will discover there’s even more to life at Bond University. Our world-class campus gives you access to unparalleled study and recreational facilities. These include two libraries, computer labs, moot courtrooms, Australia’s largest university gym, sporting fields and an Olympic sized swimming pool to name a few.

In addition to the facilities on campus, our central Gold Coast location provides you with easy access to some of the world’s best beaches, theme parks and other local and national attractions.

Above all, your Study Abroad experience will connect you to a global network of new friends and future business associates as you study, play and live with a dynamic, multicultural community of students and academics from over 70 different countries.

Bond University conveniently offers three semesters per year starting in January, May and September. The semesters align with the Northern Hemisphere’s academic calendar, ensuring minimal disruption to your study timetable. For students who typically have a busy school year, we recommend spending your summer at Bond during our May semester.

Study Abroad
Studying at Bond

As a study abroad student at Bond University, you will be enrolled with full degree Australian and international students. You will be able to choose subjects (commonly called courses) from all faculties, however, some subjects may have prerequisites that must be completed before the subject is approved for enrolment.

Depending on the subjects you enrol in, there will be a mix of teaching methods including lectures, tutorials, seminars and laboratories ranging in the number of contact hours required. The grading scale in Australia is also different to that of Europe and North America and further information can be found on the Bond University website.

PLANNING YOUR SUBJECTS

As part of the application process, you will nominate six to eight subjects you wish to be assessed for at Bond.

To do this, visit Bond’s subject search page at apps.bond.edu.au/subjects to search for subjects by name, code, study area, and semester offered. You have the option to ‘Display only Study Abroad subjects’, or you can search by study area to see what subjects Bond offers.

Each subject will have a brief description, list of prerequisites (if applicable) and a subject outline to help your home university determine if you are able to receive credit for the Bond subject.

My home university didn’t have any affiliations with universities in Australia, so I had a lot of options to choose from. I read really positive reviews about Bond and saw that it had been ranked by BuzzFeed as the best place in the world to study abroad. The pictures of the campus were beautiful and I loved that it was close to beaches, a vibrant nightlife, and was centrally located between the Great Barrier Reef and cities like Melbourne and Sydney.

Choosing to study abroad at Bond has been the best decision of my life. I’ve been exposed to so many different cultures, have built relationships that will last far into my future and have created memories that will last a lifetime. If you’re thinking about studying abroad at all, just do it.

Dive into it head first, don’t look back and be open to anything. You learn the most about life and about yourself when you step outside of your comfort zone. It will be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life, and I could not recommend it more!
