Master the path to securing board roles, navigating governance, and leading with integrity.

Founder and CEO of Tiger Boards, Kylie Hammond, in partnership with Bond University, are proud to host the Welcome to the Boardroom Seminar.

This unique event will provide aspiring and current board directors with practical insights into securing board roles, understanding the current board landscape, and recognition of the need for next-generation leaders in modern governance.

Enjoy a luxurious afternoon tea, followed by premium canapés and drinks while networking with industry leaders.

Key themes

This exclusive seminar offers an in-depth exploration of the dynamic world of governance, providing essential insights on:

- Securing board positions
- Navigating the evolving board landscape
- The role of next-generation leaders
- The critical importance of ethics in governance

Kylie will be joined by Professor Nick James, Bond University's Executive Dean - Law. Together they will share their insights on the current board landscape, provide actionable guidance on securing board positions, understanding the evolving governance environment, and the vital role of next-generation leaders in modern boards.

You will benefit from their deep knowledge and experience, leaving with a clearer understanding of how to advance your board career and contribute effectively to your organisation.

Whether you are a seasoned executive or an aspiring governance professional, this is your chance to engage, learn, and collaborate.
