

Bond University College Awards

Wednesday, 5 November 2025

In the spirit of reconciliation, Bond University acknowledges the Traditional Owners and Custodians of the land on which the University now stands. The Kombumerri people have walked and cared for this land and wildlife for thousands of years, and their descendants maintain spiritual connection and traditions. We thank them for sharing their cultures, spiritualities and ways of living with the land and wildlife in this place we all now call home. We pay respect to Elders past, present and emerging.

"This artwork represents my connection with the land and sea. On my mums side, I'm Aboriginal, this is shown through the green section that represents the land of my grandparents tribes - Burangum and Birra Gubba tribe and the land on where I grew up - Murgon/Cherbourg. I painted the land as I remembered when I was a child, the greenery constantly surrounding us and the many water holes. The blue section was painted to represent my Torres Strait Islander (TSI) heritage on my fathers side, where the sea is a significant factor in the TSI culture. The sea and islands surrounding Thursday Island were the most memorable moments and what I thought would best represent my culture. The middle section represents four main groups of people in my life who have impacted my involvement in my culture, have helped foster my cultural identity through these relationships by strengthening my connection. These groups of people are my family on my Aboriginal side, my family on my Torres Strait Island side, the Nymobil Centre and the students I've met through University, and students I attended high school with."
