AMBITION LOVES COMPANY

As Australia's first private, not-for-profit university, Bond University reinvests tuition fees into providing world-class facilities, personalised support, a learning environment where ambition can thrive. With a student-to-teacher ratio of just 11:1, Bond students benefit from small class sizes and individual attention from academics and staff.

Bond's unique three-semester-per-year timetable, with semesters starting in January, May and September, means students can fast-track their studies and graduate sooner, gaining a competitive edge in the global job market.

Learning under the mentorship of world-class, industry leading academics, students receive a well-rounded education with access to an abundance of resources and professional development opportunities.

Located on the Gold Coast – one of Australia's fastest-growing cities – Bond offers an idyllic lifestyle with beautiful beaches, a warm and welcoming community and over 300 days of sunshine each year. With a small and welcoming student cohort of fewer than 5,000 students, Bond is uniquely placed to ensure our international students get the most out of their study experience in Australia.

Bond offers an array of degrees across study areas and disciplines, ranging from academic diploma and English pathways, to undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, research degrees and study abroad and exchange programs.

SUPPORTING CAREER SUCCESS

Bond alumni have forged successful careers in more than 130 countries. We remain committed to preparing our students to thrive in the workforce, and at Bond, career development starts on day one.

All undergraduate students complete Beyond Bond, a personalised and degree-wide professional development program for undergraduate students that prepares students for the transition from study to career with experience and a professional portfolio to demonstrate their graduate employability.

Bond students also have lifelong access to the Career Development Centre and its team of specialist staff. As a small university, our Career Development Centre works with every student to arrange relevant internships, employer placements, work experience and industry projects throughout their studies.

Bond's programs have key international and national accreditations, equipping graduates with the necessary qualifications they need to thrive in their careers.
